{ What is the Omegaverse? }

Coming from Europe and America we welcome a very special universe for BL. Originally intended as a parody for so fi works, it has sort of branched into the BL realm. In so fi, it depicts love between male characters, which involves three categories. The alpha, beta and omega. From there, a hierarchy is formed based on the patriarchal system, except with types of humans. There are then many types of arrangements for the omegaverse, and countless versions of it. Since the originator of this idea is unknown, there is no set canon universe. It's the freedom to do whatever you want with it that makes the omegaverse so enticing.

After saying that, to a user reading something with a ton of different perspectives, and to have it all come together and read smoothly is a very high hurdle to overcome. To bring readers to more easily understand and enjoy this world, that is the reason for the "Omegaverse Project". The Omegaverse Project aims to collect works that bring surprise and excitement, and boundless possibilities to the BL world. And all of those works depicting this world have been gathered together.

{ α , β and Ω are: }

Long long ago, there existed two genders: Male and female. However, due to the rapid decline of the human population, developments had taken place. It became that the only difference between male and female were outward appearances. All humans became capable of pregnancy.

- α
- Males tend to lead.
 - They have more power.
 - The amount of sperm during ejaculation is the highest among the three classes.
 - They carry pheromones that attract others from afar.

- β
- There is no Estrus.
 - As a partner to an alpha, they are turned on, but must be careful over stress.

- Ω
- Not fertile.
 - Estrus happens for seven days every month.
 - Have a chance of becoming pregnant outside of Estrus.
 - Not on pheromones.

In the only one where males have 'heaps' and have a high chance of reproduction with omega. Aside from that, they also have a high sperm count. Although there are other differences than in their pheromones, in society, they stand above the beta and omega.

They make up the majority of the population, and are basically used by the alpha. But in recent years, due to their hard work they have been able to marry alpha, so have some males reached the same rank as alpha.

They experience estrus, and due to their lack of sperm productivity, they hold a lower position than the alpha and beta. Before the invention of suppressors, they would stay at home and were not allowed to work outside.

{ Out of 10 people... }

{ The Life of an α , β and Ω }

School

Co-Eol Schools

They have a special curriculum for alphas. Betas and omegas are also able to enter this school, but those courses are optional for them. It's a class established on the idea that alphas are more talented and capable than betas and omegas, so the level is much higher.

Alpha schools

These schools are exclusive to alphas. They have exclusive schools for alphas, but none for betas or omegas.

Work

(α)

Presidents and executive positions are mostly possessed by alphas. And there are a lot of family-run companies. Alphas have strong connections with each other, so it is easy for them to join the working world.

(β)

There are betas who are as capable as alphas and hold the same positions as them, but the majority of them work under alphas.

(Ω)

Since the invention of suppressants, they have been taking on more subordinate roles. In order to overcome prejudice, the government subsidizes employment for omegas.

Marriage

Alphas, betas and omegas all normally marry within their classes. Especially alphas, who desire to preserve their date blood and keep their blood pure. The probability of children born are Beta-Alpha-Omega, and so to increase the chances of an alpha, alphas will marry each other. When they do that, they monopolize the privileged class. And because of that, betas and omegas strive to marry an alpha. It was only after the human rights movement in 1912 that marriages between omegas and betas, or omegas and alphas began increasing. However, it's still not safe to say that interracial marriage is a common thing.

{ To protect oneself, an omega must: }

- 1. Preserve their virginity to their schools starting from middle school onwards
- 2. Omegas must preserve their virginity to their masters
- 3. They must use suppressants and special medicine

{ Estrus suppressants are: }

In the 1930s, special medicine for omegas was released. Using the alpha hormone as a base, it suppresses the omega hormones and decreases the amount of pheromones released. The effectiveness varies from person to person, and there are those who have allergies and those that it causes effects on. For those, they are still awaiting the development of new medication.

(Pill)

Once a day, one pill needs to be taken. It should not have any side effects, but slightly, it makes him nervous people.

(Special medicine)

When you get this, you get it once you are or right. The first will subside with a few minutes, but there are strong side effects to this, including headache, vomiting, dizziness, etc. It is not to be used in school, work, stations and public areas.
